

Is your team experiencing Inspired Mediocrity?

Inspired Mediocrity (a.k.a. Momentum Dysfunction Disorder) is a condition that afflicts most organizations and the individuals and teams within. Through years of research and experience, The Ruebling Group has a proven, field-tested process that assists organizations in their pursuit of greatness.

Our REAL Performance System help managers and executives bridge the gap between good intentions and great execution.

Results

What does success look like? What are the results you would like to achieve?

Execution

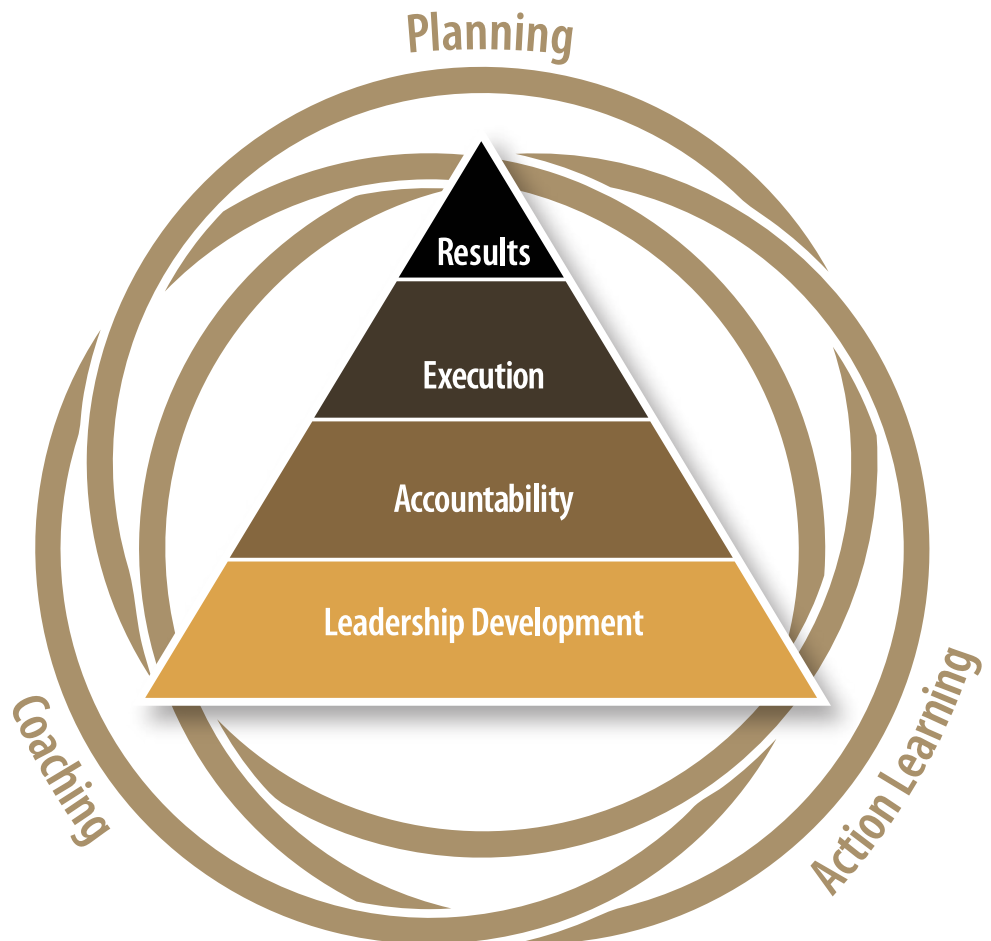

How will you ensure masterful, sustainable execution?

Accountability

How will you hold your team accountable?

Leadership Development

Does your leadership match your team's needs?

Results – Execution – Accountability – Leadership

Diane M. Ruebling, MSIR, is President of The Ruebling Group LLC. Her extensive executive-level expertise and superior performance record in leading top financial sales teams allows her to provide her clients the insights to achieve REAL success, making her one of the most well-qualified development coaches in the nation.

Clients can leverage her executive-level experience in top tier companies like American Express, The MONY Group and Honeywell for their own success in areas like sales/marketing, human resources, organizational development and general management.

She is passionate about coaching executives and leaders to focus on business planning and action learning. Her core competencies include team building, results-oriented business planning, change management, reengineering and emotional competence.